Vaccine Mandate Management

Monitor and track vaccination status, exemptions, test results, and health attestations in a centralized location and ensure employee privacy and confidentiality are addressed. These records can be used to ensure compliant and safe scheduling with vaccination requirements.

Vaccination Reporting

Data collection and reporting requirements will be ongoing as new employees are hired and must prove their vaccination status. It's likely that laws and policies around COVID-19 will continue to evolve, so organizations need to be prepared to respond with updated data collection processes and reporting requirements.

Contact Tracing

Leverage historical and real-time attendance data to quickly identify employees who may have had close working contact with others who have tested positive during specific shifts or at specific work sites. These automated reports allow organizations to act with urgency using accurate information.

Attestation

Allow your employees to verify their health status prior to starting their shift by answering configurable questionnaires related to COVID symptoms. Attestation reports flag potential risks and store a history of responses.

Leave Management

Manage paid time off for COVID-related illnesses, quarantines, and vaccinations in accordance with various city, state, or other regulatory requirements. If an employee is in close contact, or is diagnosed with COVID, organizations will need to act quickly in facilitating leave, filling shifts, and complying with employee pay obligations.

Touch-Free Employee Self Service

Eliminate the need for caregivers to touch a shared surface, such as a finger sensor or a touchscreen, to punch in or out. Employees can utilize the UKG mobile application and employee self-service to access schedules, W-2s, paystub information, and more — all through a unified platform experience.
